Mr. Dickens will arrive in November, and begin his readings during the first week of December. -The Montgomery, Ala., Sentine, of the 2d, says: "Yesterday, we saw a bully load of cotton passing by the City Clerk's office. There were nine bales on one wagon, packed in splendid style. What a contrast in appearance with most of the cotton brought to the city. We don't know the owner's name, but guess he is a new comer who practises true economy.

—Great discontent prevails among the workmen of Paris on account of the dearness of bread. Placards were recently found on several houses in the Faubourg St. Antuine with the following threatening inscription: "Cheap Bread or War." Similar placards were torn down by the police in the Faubourg de Temple. The price of bread in Paris is equivalent to about twenty-four cents the four pound loaf.

—Edward Cooper, of Tennessee, who was defeated for Congress in the late election held in that State, by a Radical, is in the city, and is to be appointed a private secretary to President John-Colonel Cooper temporarily discharged the duties of private secretary last year, while awaiting admission to his seat in Congress, but will now occupy the position permanently, in the place of Colonel Robert Johnson, the President's son, who is now absent. _The New York Tribune of yesterday says

"So much evidence is there of mismanagement, or fraud, in the disposition of the Antietam funds that Governor Fenton feels justified in refusing to pay over the entire appropriation made by the Legislature of this State until a special commis-sion shall have presented a satisfactory report upon the past and present management. The Governor of Pennsylvania has also appointed a special commission for a like purpose.

—The Jefferson Bulletin, from information receiv-

ple-haunting martlet, but this year not a single p ir has domiciled there. Of the several pairs which likewise used to build over the windows in ed from all quarters, feels warranted in estimating the yield of cotton in all the counties of Eastern Texas at not more than one-half a crop. It is expected that about 20,000 bales will be shipped om Jefferson during the season. The Marshall spublican thinks the yield in Harrison County will be about a third, and in adjoining counties looks for a full half crop. On the bottom lands the crop is almost totally destroyed.

The one hundred and sight for the sary of the day on which the Poles, under Jean Sobieski, drove back the Turks, who were menacing to extend their rule over a part of Europe, was duly celebrated at Zolkiew, in Galicia. The of Vienna, on the occasion, shows historically that Austria, in return for her deliverance, has broken up and oppressed Poland, and recommends that she should make amends, and aid in the restoration of the nation.

-The New Orleans Republican, September 29th. says : "Right Catholic priests, Fathers Seelers, Jacobs, Meredith, Neipthart, of St. Alphonsus Church, Fathers Ryan and Smith, of St. Joseph Church, Father Coppens, of the Carrollton Church, also the assistant priest of St. Augustine's Church. of this city, are prostrated with the yellow fever. Lay Bothers Gerard and Lawrence, of the Ro-demptorist order connected with the St. Alphonsus Church, died on Friday."

—The Lyncbburg Virginian of Wednesday says:
"Jack Frost made his sudden and unwelcome appearance Monday night. The visitation was a light one, and is not supposed to have done serious injury. The tobacco, of course, suffered some, as but little has been cut up to this time." Th Raleigh (N. C.) Sentinel, of the same date, says: "We had the first frost of the season on Monday night. We presume that it was too light to do any injury, however. This is the earliest frost, almost, within the memory of the 'oldest inhabi-tant.' Unusually it does not come before the 20th of October or the 1st of November."

—The ex-King of Oude, who is enjoying, after his fashion, at his residence in Garden Reach, the magnificent allowance made to him, is can great anxiety to Colonel Herbert, the officer i charge of him, by his extravagances. The Indian Government has warned the ex-King that if his expenses are not diminished and regulated, a nission will be appointed to collect and investigate his debts, and that their amount will be deducted from his income. All the worst things resorded of the Roman Emperors and the nobles of the Empire would collectively afford but a faint idea of the sort of life which the ex-King of Oude is said to lead within a couple of miles of the Viceroy's Palace. -The oldest man in Alleghany County, Md.

doubtless, is Mr. Henry Lewis, living in Accident District. Mr. Lewis was born in Hanover on the 22d of August, 1765, and is now 102 years of age. His father lived to the age of 106 years and six months, and his mother to the age of 109 years. He came to this country in 1822; he has never been sick a day in his life; has no gray hairs, except a few scattered through his beard, and performs a full day's work each day in clearing his farm, being still strong and hearty. To cap the climax, the old gentleman, on the 21st of last August, just the day previous to his 102d birthday, took to himself his second wife, the happy bride ing Mrs. Burkhari, aged fifty-five years. Mr. Lewis is now on his way to New York to settle up, some business of his sister's, who recently died

The St. Louis Democrat has compiled the following statement of the tobacco crop: "In Missourlit is reported at from 12,000 to 15,000 hhds. This is far beyond an average crop, but it is said that the quality of the tobacco is unusually good. In Virginia the crop has fallen off one-third—it is reported at $70,000,000 pounds—but is 'the best ever made as respects quality.' In some counties of North Carolina lands which had been previously devoted to tobacco were this year planted with cotton. The yield for that State is 35,000,000 of their best efforts, it will be the fault of American pounds. The yield for Maryland is placed at can painters if they do not produce works which 25,800,000 pounds; Tennessee at 39,500,000; Kentucky at 61,000,000; Texas at 90,000; Alabama at 270,000,000; Arkansas at 1,700,000; Florida and Georgia each 600,000; Louisiana at 40 000; South Carolina at 25,000, and the Northern States at

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post says that Ex-Senator Hunter, of Virginia, is there and had a long interview with President Johnson this evening relative to his prospects for a pardon. Mr. Hunter states that the leading men of Virginia are opposed to a convention as they prefer the present military rule to negro supremacy. Many planters within his knowledge have expressed a willingness to give a portion of their land to encourage immigration, but the im-migrants are unwilling to scoopt if they are to be subject to a negro government. He thinks the sonvention will be defeated, not by failing to vote, migrants are unwilling to accept if they are to be subject to a negro government. He thinks the convention will be defeated, not by failing to vote, but by voting down the proposition, unless an agreement is concluded with the blacks, as is anticipated will be the case, to the effect that the regroes shall fill all the Federal offices if they will be the management of the State government to the whites. THE WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT of the Balti-hitherto unpublished. It seems from this account that the body having been examined and two of the vertebrae having been taken from it by surgeons, was sent ashore from the monitor which brought it up to the navy-yard, wrapped in a gray army blanket. The body was taken off in a boat, in which was an officer of the monitor with four sailors, Gen. Baker and two detectives. The boat roceeded down stream, and finally stopped at the ower Arsenal wharf, on which the body was placed, after which the boat returned to the monitor eaving Gen. Baker and his assistants in the Atenal grounds. A report was put out that it was the body of a soldier who had been drowned, and but little attention was paid to it. The body remained on the wharf until after nightfall, when preparations were made for the interment. Secre-ary Stanton, Gen. Dyer, chief of ordnance, and

Col. Benton, commandant of the post, were on the ground, as well as General Baker and his detecives. Three men of the laborers' gang were sent for, and they were first directed to dig a grave in one of the penitentiary cells, but after taking up the brick flooring they came to the granite founds tion laid in coment, and they pronounced the work impracticable. A spot was then selected in the wareroom, five or six feet south of the iron door pening into the prison from the warden's department, and they were directed to dig the grave to the depth of about ten feet. The grave being ready, the body, enclosed in an ammunition box (arms case), was brought in by four of the ord-nance men in charge of a sergeant, lowered into the grave, and it was filled, the brick flooring being mostly replaced, and the surplus earth removed to another portion of the room. The burial having been accomplished, the windows were boarded up not feel a commercial or pecuniary so much as an artistic interest in the enterprise. Lieutenan Ive's "Survey of the Colorado River," published by the United States Government some years ago, gave glimpses of scenery far surpassing that of the Rhine, or any other known river, in picturesqueness and grandeur. One of the features, we remember, is the "Black Canon," whose sheet walls rise to the stupendous height of 6000 feet, the river being only a narrow but deep and rapid stream in the dismal pass. Another great curiosity is an imitation city, with chimneys, staeples and domes innumerable, worked out of sendstone by the action of water. There is a perpetual nirage on the river which heightens all the effect in the strangest manner. The steam navigation of the Colorado will throw open all these mar velous sights .(hitherto quite exclusively admired by Government surveyors) to the gaze of artists and general tourists. With such an abundance

THE NEW YORK DEMOCRATIC CON.

The resolutions passed at Albany by the New York Democratic Convention show that the North is awaking to a true sense of its danger. They are a protest against despotism, and, fortunately, a protest which can make itself heard If the Northern people are desirous of preserving their own liberties. They also expose the insincerity of the Radical party, which desires, on the eve of an election, to dodge an issue which it is their firm intention to force upon the people. If the principles of that Convention are endorsed by the people of the North, constitutional liberty, to-day in its death-throes, will be revived, and this country will again be free and prosperous. From the bottom of our hearts we wish them God speed in the holy fight which they are about to make for the Union, the Constitution, and the laws made in pursuance of the powers given by that instrument, which is the charter of our liberties and the beacon-light which warns us to avoid the shoals of despotism, on which more than one good ship of State has wrecked.

Accounts from Italy are very meager and un atisfactory. One day the cable dispatches anhounce that the riots have been suppressed, while on the next we are told that the rising has been wide-spread and serious, and that the military have been unable to quell it. Particulars by the mail will doubtless throw further light upon the subject. It certainly was a bold step on the part of the government to arrest starts, the first that ever built so near. I have Gariband. We doubt not the insurrection or riots have been suppressed ore this. Still the revolutionary fire is smouldering—it has not been-it cannot be extinguished. We have seen by the letters GARINALDI has addressed to his friends from behind the bars of his prison, that he does not relinquish the hope of being able to create a "party of action" who will carry out his purpose of uniting Rome with the kingdom of Italy. Until that is done, GARIBALDI conceives that his mission will not have been coomplished.

The position of the Italian Government at resent is full of perplexing difficulties. If it yield to the popular wish, which has been reeatedly proclaimed in Parliament, that Rome should be the capital of Italy, then a conflict with France is inevitable. If, on the other hand, the government carries out the denands of Napoleon, it will lose more and more the sympathies of the people, which have been for some years in process of allenation; will probably not be able to maintain its authority, except by resort to violent measures. more Sun, October 4, gives an account of the ex- The ministry still hope that the force of pumstances may induce both the Pope and the Emperor Napoleon to make concessions. They announced some time ago, as will be remembered, that Italy cannot much longer continue to play the part of sentinel for the Pope, and keep up a large force to guard the Papal frontier, at a ruinous expense; something therefore must be done, to put an end to this unnatural relation of Rome and Italy, Their remonstrance lately made to France was found reasonable, and the French Government agreed to make another attempt to induce the Pope to come to an un-derstanding with Italy. But as long as the Pope knows that Narolnon,-dependent upon the good will of the French clergy-must, and will protect him, he will not agree to any compromise with the Italian Government, having n view the annihilation or limitation of his emporal power; and will continue to refuse to acknowledge the changed condition of affairs. In addition to these foreign complications, the internal condition of Italy is full of difficulties. Apart from the fact that but recently several different States, with conflicting ideas and perhaps conflicting interests, have been united, there are to-day three political parties in the country. The first, which is the party of the Government, representing the ideas of CHARLES ALBERT, GIOBERTI, VICTOR EMANUEL, and CAVOUR; the second the clerical party, also called "reactionary" and "ultramontane," seeing no virtue in the Government > style themselves, "the party of action," almost as bitterly opposed to the Government as the second. The Government thus finds itself beween two fires at home. The letter of thanks sent by the Pope t France, for the arrest of GARIBALDI, will be regarded as an insult to Italy. GARIBALDI's project for the invasion of Rome was stayed DY VICTOR EMANUAL, and GARIBARDI himself rested by the Italian Government; then why should VICTOR EMANUEL be ignored, and the acknowledgment made to the French Govern ment? Italy has carried out faithfully the conditions of the Convention of September; but the Pope gives her no credit for it. He knows that France forced the Italian Government into this action, and thanks Napolson that he

> the third the revolutionary party, or, as they

is still opposed, as he was at the slose of the Austro-Sardinian war, to the national unity of Italy.
This letter of thanks has deeply offended the Italian feeling of nationality, for it lays bare all the difficulties of the situation. It exhibits to the world the imposance of Italy, notwith-standing all she has decomplished during the past seven or eight years. It is not so much impatience of ecclesiastical rule, as hatred of foreign influence in the heart of their country, which makes Italians desirous of debarrassing themselves of the secular power of the Pope. They demand Rome as their capital. Until that is secured, they cannot look upon anything that has been accomplished thus far as cific, is a continuous panorams of wonderful scenes, by the study of which the native school of Besides these political differences, Italy is landscape painting is to achieve its future great suffering much from a depressed financial condition, growing out of the expense of the late wars, the repeated failure of the crops, the poverty of the people, and the want of confidence inspired by the disordered condition of affairs. Destitution in the masses, thousands of men out of employment, many of whom have been trained to the use of arms under the standards of the King and GARABALDI, and general agitation, combine to form in Italy a party ready to undertake any enterprise which appeals either to their interests or to their passions. The King, standing as he does between the two extremes, may filed himself obliged to yield to one or the other, or be crushed between them. The "party of action" being the stronger of the two, and affiliating more nearly with the Government, would ne conserly suggest likely to him as the party to be chosen. If compelled to make such a choice, the Italian Government will itself direct the storm which recently threatened to sweep over he Roman territory with lawless violence.

If Rome should become the capital of Italy. he spiritual power of the Pope would in no way be affected. One hundred and fifty mil-lions of people turn their eyes towards him with filial affection, and while the Roman question at present is beset with difficulties. here can be no doubt that its solution will bring neither danger to the Church nor diminish the spiritual authority of its distinguished * * * * * * * As we are reading the proof of this article he telegraph announces: "Guribaldi escaped from Caprera, but was sub-sequently recaptured, and is now closely guarded.

"It is rumored that Victor Emanuel has appealed to Great Britain to be released from the treaty stipulation binding him to maintain the integrity of the Papal dominions.
"The rebels hold many posts in Viterbo, and await an attack by the Pontifical troops."

If these dispatches are authentic, the Italian Government finds itself in a situation still more pritical evan than we had supposed, and is swake to its own danger. There can be no oubt that GARIBALDI has the heart of a large part of the fighting element of the Italian people. His recapture-and second imprisonment will be resented by the heroes who gained for Italy her liberty and her unity. If Victor EMANUEL has appealed to England, which however, we doubt, he is about to throw him self into the arms of the "party of action." If he does so, the result may be a European war, more frightful in its complications and its magnitude than any which has occurred sinc
